

OUR FRAMEWORK

WE TAKE A THREE-PART APPROACH TO BIBLE STUDY

God's Word is living and active — it's where He reveals Himself to us and where we grow personally, intimately, and uniquely as His disciples. By following the intentional rhythm below in our time together, we believe we'll experience more of the breadth and depth of who He is. That's why we've built our study around these three key practices: Study, Discuss, and Teaching.

This study is designed to give you a full range of learning and to help you develop your own understanding of God's Word — both for use in a group setting and as you continue to follow Him in your personal life. Our goal reflects the mission of the church in Colossians 1:28: "Him we proclaim, warning everyone and teaching everyone with all wisdom, that we may present everyone mature in Christ."

Study

You're receiving a thoughtfully prepared set of study questions that go hand-in-hand with the Scripture we'll be exploring together. These questions are designed to help you engage more deeply with God's Word on your own time.

Discuss

When we come together to dive deeper into God's Word, our group discussions create a space where we can grow in faith side by side. It's more than just learning facts; it's about discovering how to live out Scripture in our everyday lives — whether that's at work, in relationships, or in the quiet moments alone.

Teaching

The teaching is designed to help us see Scripture more clearly, uncover the incredible beauty of who God is, and inspire us to respond in ways that are truly impactful. It's about letting God's Word shape how we think, feel, and act in the real world.

MEET OUR TEACHERS

WE'RE EXCITED TO INTRODUCE THE TEAM OF WOMEN WHO PRAYERFULLY PREPARE AND TEACH GOD'S WORD EACH WEEK.

Misty Denman | Contact: MistyD@christchapelbc.org

"I trusted Christ when I was 17 and have never looked back. Life since then has brought more highs and lows than I could have imagined, but through every season, Jesus has been my steady hope and help. Teaching God's Word began as a step of obedience, but over time, it has become one of my greatest joys. I've grown to love the process — the study, the prayer, and the privilege of learning alongside women I deeply respect and admire. It's truly a gift."

Deb Hagood | Contact: s.hagood@att.net

"I was blessed to grow up in a Christian home, with a mom who prayed quietly and diligently for all her children. I also had godly grandparents who taught me so much about Jesus. I always knew He loved me, and when I was nine, I realized I needed Jesus to save me from my sin — so I put my trust in Him. My walk with Jesus grew even closer and deeper in college, where I earned my nursing degree and met my wonderful Christian husband. In 1981, we joined Christ Chapel with our two children and have served the Lord in many different ways ever since. Even as a child, I loved to read and study God's Word, so it has been a joy, an honor, and a privilege to serve Jesus by sharing the truth of Scripture with other Christ Chapel women."

Kathy Harrelson | Contact: KathyH@christchapelbc.org

"I first heard the Gospel in middle school and was struck by the truth that salvation comes by faith alone, not by anything I could do. That freeing reality changed everything for me. Since then, God's Word has been my anchor, my hope, and a source of deep joy. It's through the Bible that I've come to know and love Jesus. Being given the gift and opportunity to teach His Word so that others might experience the same is a privilege I hold with gratitude and reverence."

Kristin Hines | Contact: KristinH@christchapelbc.org

"I grew up surrounded by believers and began my relationship with Jesus at a young age. But it wasn't until college that I really started taking my faith more seriously and growing deeper in my love for Him. My senior year, I started leading Bible studies, and the Lord used that to guide me into vocational ministry, first in Christ Chapel's college group and then in our women's ministry. My favorite thing is to get to talk about the Word of God with other women, so I'm grateful I get to do that here at Women in the Word!"

Kristen Hoff | Contact: KristenH@christchapelbc.org

"I grew up with a great knowledge of scripture, but it wasn't until I was out of high school that I truly understood what it meant to walk with the Lord. Since then, the desire to know Him more has renewed that drive to know more about Scripture, but also led me to study what that means practically for me. I started teaching because a great mentor believed in and encouraged me to do so, but I teach because I want others to fall in love with the Lord through His scriptures just like I have."

Venita Jones | Contact: veejones1813@hotmail.com

"I grew up in a small town where many of our activities involved our church family. I attended a faith-based school until fifth grade and fell in love with God's Word during that time, but it wasn't until my mid-20s that I truly learned what it meant to have a relationship with Christ. After receiving Him as my Savior, my love for His Word grew even deeper. In 2009, I joined the teaching team, and the Holy Spirit took my passion for God's Word to a whole new level. My heart is happiest when I'm studying Scripture with other women, discovering nuggets of His truth that guide and encourage me."

Lynn Kitchens | Contact: LynnK@christchapelbc.org

"Faith wasn't something we talked about in my home, but I learned to pray at a young age. When I was 12, I joined a catechism class and thought standing on stage at the end would make me a Christian, but I knew something was still missing. Three years later, at a Young Life retreat, I realized it was personal faith in Jesus. I invited Him into my life that weekend, and He's been faithful ever since. Sharing God's Word has become one of my greatest joys. Each time I teach, I ask Him to use me — flaws and all — for His glory."

Wendi Lyon | Contact: WendiL@christchapelbc.org

"I accepted Christ as a child at Good News Club and grew up doing all the 'right' things — memorizing verses, obeying my parents, and wanting to share Jesus with others. But it wasn't until I walked through difficult trials that I began to truly understand God's character. The Scriptures I had memorized became my anchor. As a young adult, I longed to go deeper than devotional books, and when I discovered verse-by-verse study through Women in the Word, my love for the Bible grew. God's Word continues to shape my view of Him, correct misperceptions, and draw me closer to Jesus. I'm grateful for the chance to teach others that in His Word we find strength, joy, and awe."

Brooke Seale | Contact: BrookeS@christchapelbc.org

"I grew up in a small church where the example of my family and the love of my church community helped me come to know Jesus. I trusted Christ at just 7 years old, but it wasn't until I was 17 that my faith became deeply personal and began to transform every part of my life. A few years later, I found myself at a seminary pursuing a degree in biblical counseling, which brought me to Fort Worth — and ultimately, to Christ Chapel. I've been part of this church since 2016 and on staff since 2018. I believe the Bible and the local church are two of God's greatest gifts, means by which we come to know Him and experience lasting change. Serving and teaching are both a privilege and a weighty calling, and I want to take them up with humility and gratitude as I help others know their Bibles, trust the Lord, and love His church."
